CONVINCE YOUR BOSS

Attending EWNCON is a good idea because:

Staying updated on industry trends and networking with professionals in your field is crucial for your continued success, and this conference offers that. EWNCON is designed with you in mind because this conference allows you to connect with your peers and discuss the issues you face in today's work.

Industry Insights

EWNCON gathers experts and thought leaders from across the natural gas industry and brings them together in one place. Attending this conference will provide valuable insights into emerging trends and best practices within our industry. You will better understand where the industry is heading and how you can position yourself for success by showing up.

Professional Development

The conference offers a diverse range of OQ-related workshops, seminars, and presentations designed to enhance your development and OQ program. By attending these sessions, you will have the opportunity to expand your knowledge, learn new skills, and stay ahead of the latest standards in our field. This investment in your professional development will ultimately benefit your organization by increasing your expertise and the defensibility of your compliance programs.

Networking Opportunities

One of the most significant benefits of attending EWNCON is the opportunity to network with peers, experts, and potential collaborators. EWNCON will provide you with ample networking opportunities, allowing you to connect with industry leaders, exchange ideas, and build valuable relationships that can drive future collaborations and business opportunities.

ROI

While attending EWNCON does require an investment of time and resources, the potential return on investment is significant. The knowledge, insights, and connections gained from attending EWNCON can directly contribute to your organization's success, leading to increased efficiency, enhanced OQ programs, improved decision-making, and, ultimately, greater profitability.
